We set out below the steps taken by Diaverum to ensure that there is no modern slavery and human trafficking in our business and supply chains. This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (the “MSA”) and constitutes the slavery and human trafficking statement for Diaverum for the financial year ending 31 December 2018.

Policies and Procedures

The Diaverum Code of Conduct sets out Diaverum's commitment to creating a fair, safe and healthy working environment. Diaverum respects the protection of human rights and does not tolerate workplace violence or forced, compulsory or child labor. We strive to promote diversity and do not discriminate based on ethnic or national origin, caste, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, physical disability, union affiliation or political opinion. We do not discriminate against Diaverum Personnel or applicants on the basis of race, colour, religion, national origin, disability, gender, age or sexual orientation.

All Diaverum Personnel must follow the Diaverum Code of Conduct. In addition to complying with the high ethical standards as specified in Diaverum's Code of Conduct, Diaverum Personnel must act ethically according to the rules, regulations and customs of the country in which they work.

The Diaverum Code of Conduct encourages reporting and self-reporting of a violation or a potential violation of the Code of Conduct or any applicable law and regulation. Under no circumstances will a reporter be subject to any disciplinary or retaliatory action.

The head of each subsidiary or functional entity of the Diaverum Group has primary responsibility for the implementation of the Diaverum Code of Conduct. Where a misconduct or a potential violation is reported, Group Compliance conducts a preliminary investigation. Violation of any corporate compliance policies, failure to report a violation, retaliation against any Diaverum Personnel who in good faith reports a violation, or failure to comply with the Diaverum Code of Conduct will result in appropriate disciplinary action.

From July 2016, the Diaverum Group implemented a Whistleblowing policy. This policy was revised in August 2019 and renamed the Diaverum SpeakUP! policy. The SpeakUP! policy applies to all Diaverum Personnel. It aims at promoting open communication and making Diaverum Personnel comfortable about raising concerns. A web based SpeakUP! Up portal fulfilling the requirements of the EU Whistleblowing Directive is available to all Diaverum Personnel. Diaverum's CEO and executive team are responsible for the policy and to ensure that serious allegations are dealt with accordingly. They are also responsible for periodically reviewing the policy's effectiveness. The Group Compliance function oversees the day-to-day application of the SpeakUP! policy, and resolves incidents brought to its attention – either via the SpeakUP! portal or otherwise – ensuring that adequate remedial measures are taken. The Human Resources Department executes any necessary employment sanctions imposed. The processes are defined by the SpeakUP! policy and the Compliance Investigations policy.

Diaverum Personnel are able to access all relevant policies and procedures electronically in English. As part of its global annual compliance update, Diaverum is reviewing its implementation and translation/communication of policies. Important policies that have been implemented and communicated to the Diaverum Personnel include (without limitation): (i) Diaverum Code of Conduct; (ii) Anti-Corruption policy; (iii) Third Party Integrity Management policy; (iv) Event Management & Sponsoring policy; (v) SpeakUP! Policy and (vi) Conflicts of Interest policy.

Due Diligence

Diaverum has an established Supplier Code of Conduct, available here, setting out its supplier evaluation process.

The Diaverum Supplier Code of Conduct requires suppliers to sign and confirm that they have read and understood and acknowledge compliance with the Diaverum Supplier Code of Conduct. The Supplier Code of Conduct is based on international standards such as the Universal Declaration on Human Rights, the Core Conventions of the International Labour Organisation, the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the 10 principles of the UN Global Compact. It stipulates the minimum requirements that Diaverum's suppliers shall respect and meet within their own operations and within their supply chain. The Diaverum Supplier Code of Conduct covers the following topics: (i) compliance with legal requirements, (ii) regular and voluntary employment, (iii) freedom of association and right to collective bargaining, (iv) fair and equal treatment of employees, (v) fair remuneration and benefits, (vi) decent working hours, (vii) safe and healthy workplace, (viii) no child labour, (ix) sanctions and export controls, (x) bribery and corruption not allowed, (xi) caring for the environment and (xii) implementation and monitoring.

Risk Assessment and Management

Diaverum has carried out a risk assessment and believes that there is a low risk of slavery or human trafficking in its supply chains, including the manufacturing entities that produce products sourced by Diaverum. The company interacts with large international suppliers that publish sustainability and other reports on a regular basis and follow relevant industry standards. All of our major suppliers have systems in place to follow corporate social governance and most of their production sites are located in low risk areas such as the EU, Japan and/or the US. In exceptional cases where higher risk countries are involved, site visits have been conducted. Pursuant to our review of major suppliers, we have confirmed that the risk of slavery or human trafficking at these companies is low.

Diaverum has also carried out a group-wide global assessment project of the main risks and implementation of remedial measures at Diaverum, as a result of which new compliance systems and monitoring tools have been developed.

Performance Indicators

Diaverum carries out an annual review of major suppliers with regard to, among other things, compliance with the Diaverum Code of Conduct. Diaverum also monitors suppliers certified according to ISO14001 or equivalent Environment Management system, and according to OHSAS 8001 or equivalent Occupational Health and Safety Management System.

Training

As part of the global Diaverum training platform d.Academy, Diaverum has developed a mandatory Code of Conduct e-learning program for all Diaverum Personnel. As noted in the 2018 Diaverum Sustainability Report, the participation rate of the program is monitored globally. To date, almost all of the corporate Diaverum Personnel and the top management of the Diaverum companies have completed the Code of Conduct e-learning program. Diaverum has translated the program into local languages for Diaverum Personnel below the top management level. Diaverum is also drafting a training matrix that will define the required type and frequency of compliance training for the various functions in each country going forward.

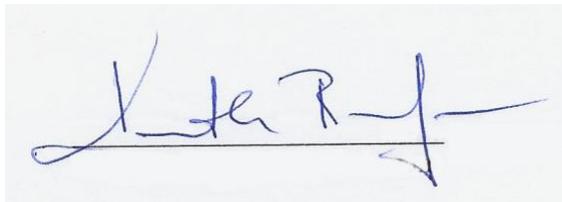

Further Steps

The majority of Diaverum's major and material suppliers are long-term (more than one year). The approved suppliers are re-assessed on an annual basis using a questionnaire. Based on the responses, the suppliers are given a score on areas such as procurement, quality and sustainability (including environmental impact and ethics). Our major suppliers publish sustainability reports including on corporate social governance, describing the work they do and the standards they aspire to meet – these reports are taken into account during our re-assessment. Based on input from the local Diaverum offices and a desktop research, the overall score is used to inform our decision on whether the supplier is still approved or if further actions are needed. In some of Diaverum's contractual relationships, if a supplier is unwilling or unable to carry out corrective actions pursuant to the Code of Conduct for Suppliers, Diaverum retains the right to terminate the business relationship and any contract(s) with the supplier immediately.

Diaverum has recently introduced an internal audit function to, among other things, support the compliance program, and will continue to monitor the application of its policies, procedures and relationships with third parties to ensure ongoing compliance. As part of its ongoing compliance monitoring, Diaverum conducts regular reviews of the content of the key policies and reflect on whether the policies require adaptation in the countries in which Diaverum operates, and if so, considers the legal implementation requirements in each country to ensure that the policies are fully enforceable.
